

April 10, 2017

Cayden,

Let me be among the first to congratulate you on joining the 2017 NASCAR Next Program.

Your selection is a testament that your commitment, hard work and dedication have been recognized by the NASCAR Industry. You have been selected by the NASCAR Next Selection Committee through a multi-tier selection process that includes key influencers within the industry.

Now in its seventh year, the NASCAR Next program identifies and highlights emerging stars throughout NASCAR who have exemplified the talent and drive to succeed in our sport. NASCAR is committed to greater investments in the development and promotion of the next generation of drivers in our sport – This program is one example of that.

Throughout the balance of 2017 and into 2018, the NASCAR Next Program will feature a number of events that will include you and your peers, kicking off with this year's class announcement on Tuesday, May 16th, on FS1's NASCAR Racehub. We look forward to having you participate in these events throughout the year.

We wish you the best of luck in the remainder of your season.

Best Regards,

Brian France
Chairman and CEO
NASCAR